FIVE ARRESTS.

Colored Offenders Seem to Have Been Good Long Enough.

Thursday the police made five arrests, all colored. One was charged with fornication, one for adultery, one for disorderly conduct and one for breach of the peace. The fifth was for obtaining money under false pretenses. The grand jury, which is now in session, will look into this case.

The officers have about rested up from their hard work during the month of September and are constantly on the watch-out for offenders, but it is to be hoped that the record of crime and misdemeanor will not approach that of last month.

REV. M. B. ADAMS GIVES REASONS

Why Temperance People Should Support Gov. Beckham.

AN OPEN LETTER.

Says Governor Was Strong Friend of the County Unit Law.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 12.—The Rev. Dr. M. B. Adams, President of the Anti-Saloon League of Kentucky, and one of the leading Baptist ministers of the State, has addressed a letter to those who have been associated with him for several years past in the cause of temperance, urging upon them the necessity for taking a hand in the present Democratic campaign for the United States Senatorial nomination in behalf of Governor Beckham. Mr. Adams has been at the head of the Anti-Saloon League for nine years past, representing it in legislative fights for the enactment of temperance legislation, and in the counties in local option fights, and has gathered about him the many who are in opposition to the liquor element and interests controlling political parties and affairs of the State of Kentucky. On his own responsibility, and putting aside any other question that might be attempted to be injected into the race for the Senatorial nomination, Dr. Adams is acting in this matter, and he was never more in earnest in support of any matter.

The letter he is sending out to his workers over the State says that the fight now centered in the Senatorial race is by the liquor interests to regain their lost control of political affairs, which, through the passage of the "County Unit" bill, the "Rectifiers tax" bill, the "Wholesale" bill and the "Shipping" bill, Governor Beckham has taken from them. He calls upon his friends out in the State to help sustain the man who was the first of all Kentucky's governors to dare oppose the hitherto all powerful liquor forces, and adds that should the temperance people allow him to be defeated in the face of the fearful and corrupt fight against him, they will not in future be trusted to sustain their public servants in standing for the moral interests of Kentucky, nor can they expect the next governor of the State to oppose the liquor interests as Governor Beckham has done.

Dr. Adams says that he can testify to the sincerity of Governor Beckham in his fight for temperance and regulation of the liquor business, and denounces as untrue the lies which have been circulated by the liquor people in this campaign with regard to the Governor as a drinking man. The letter of Dr. Adams reads as follows:

"Last winter the liquor forces of the State met with an overwhelming defeat in the passage of the 'County Unit' bill, the 'Wholesale' bill, the 'Shipping' bill and the fight for a tax on the business of rectifying and blending liquors. The passage of all these measures took from the liquor element the control in political affairs they have for many years exercised. They have also been mortally offended by being compelled by the governor to obey the laws forbidding the sale of liquor on Sunday. They have never received such treatment in Kentucky before, and they naturally think the political and public life of this State belongs to them to debauch and corrupt as they please.

"They are now struggling to regain their lost control. The first battle they wish to win in their campaign for the control of Kentucky is the defeat of Governor Beckham in the November Democratic primary for the nomination for United States Senator, for which he is offering. If they could accomplish his defeat they would win three valuable points which would be a most fearful loss to the temperance interest after the great victory we have won. First, they would obtain by his defeat the control of the Democratic party. Secondly, they would be in fine political position to control the next legislature and repeal the temperance measures recently passed at such great cost. Thirdly, they would so frighten the next governor of the State that he would not dare to oppose the liquor interests as Gov. Beckham has done. Should they accomplish this, the work of the temperance people, running through many years, would be overthrown.

"Without the assistance of Governor Beckham the 'County Unit' and other bills could not have passed. I know their history in every detail and appealed to the Governor on behalf of the temperance people of the State to give his assistance which he gladly did. If the Governor was only playing politics it was mighty poor politics. I can testify to his sincerity. All kinds of lies are being circulated by the liquor people to harm Governor Beckham, such as, that he is a drunkard and brutal in his family. I personally know these to be untrue. Tens of thousands of dollars are being put into the campaign against him. The liquor people are depending on his defeat for their return to political power.

"I am sending this letter on my own responsibility to you. As a leader I ask you to help sustain the man who, first of all Kentucky's governors, has dared to oppose the hitherto all-powerful liquor forces. If the temperance people allow Gov.

Beckham's defeat in the face of the fearful and corrupt fight waged against him by the solid saloon forces of the State, they will not in the future be trusted to sustain their public servants in standing for the moral interests of Kentucky.

"For nine years I have labored at Frankfort for the temperance cause in Kentucky without a cent of remuneration and at much larger cost to myself than I could afford. These have been nine years of suffering and trial. Much has had to be endured from the enemies of our homes whose interests I have antagonized on behalf of the old Commonwealth we all love and hope to see redeemed from the liquor blight. I believe I have a right to appeal to every temperance voter in the Democratic party to work from now until the day of election to prevent the winning of this first battle by the saloon power to regain control of the State. I would not have the heart to go before another legislature or before another governor if the people should prove ungrateful enough to allow the enemy to win this, their first battle, after their disastrous defeat of last winter.

"If we can defeat the whiskey forces at this point we can win in the next legislature and place such additional laws in the statute books as will in the next few years redeem Kentucky from the saloon.

"Will you help? Never cast a vote on the same side the saloon keepers vote.

Yours sincerely,

"M. B. ADAMS."
